New Variety Of Snap Beans To Be Available Soon, Known As "Bonus"

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—See o... a new snap bean variety that is... highly desirable for freezing or...
canning as whole or cut beans will... soon be available to Florida growers.

"Bonus" is the name of the new variety, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research service at the U. S. Vegetable Breeding Laboratory, in Charleston, South Carolina.

Tested in Florida at the Belle Glade Experiment Station for two years, "Bonus" looks quite good as a processing bean, according to Dr. James Montelaro, vegetable-crop specialist. Although it was not the best fresh market variety, it has some real good fresh qualities. Dr. Montelaro believes it may be a good dual-purpose type and some growers may wish to try small plantings.

"Bonus" presents a pleasing appearance when frozen or canned because of its white seeds and the shape, size, and color of its pods. It is also rated as highly flavorful. Bonus is resistant to both the ordinary strains of common bean mosaic virus and pod mottle virus. It also has some tolerance to powdery mildew, rust, and Rhizoctonia root rot.

The variety has a vigorous root system, a characteristic usually associated with good top growth and high production. Plants average 16 inches in height, with a spread of 18 to 20 inches, and are well adapted to mechanical harvesting. "Mechanical harvestability is important to commercial growers," Dr. Montelaro points out.

"Bonus" is distinct and no currently available variety is apt to confuse with it. The length of time to harvest is 50 to 52 days. Pods are round and straight, but can be slightly curved when produced under poor growing conditions. Pod length is uniform from year to year, averaging 5.5 inches in all trials. Pod color is similar to that of the variety Tendergreen. The pods are smooth when harvested at the proper stage for processing or for fresh market. Seeds are white and average 100 to an ounce.

Yields have been consistently high in a wide range of locations and have averaged 7,000 pounds per acre. The variety grows equally well in southern areas during spring and fall. It should reach good demand in areas where a multiple purpose snap bean is desired.

Seed will be distributed through commercial channels. The USDA has no seed for distribution.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund should see any member of the Lions Club to be sure that Canal Point will have street lights during the coming year.

Elbert E. Bishop And Wife Plan Retirement

A former principal of Pahokee high school with 40 years of school teaching behind him and his wife plan to retire from the Palm Beach county school system at the end of the present term. Mr. and Mrs. Elbert E. Bishop of West Palm Beach have announced their coming retirement after he completes his 40 years and she completes her 30 years of teaching.

The Bishops are well and favorably known in the Glades area because he was principal at Pahokee before going to West Palm Beach and the Junior college where he has been registrar for 30 years. Mrs. Bishop, a daughter of Frank Friend in Pahokee, at present is a teacher at Central Junior high school and is finishing 30 years on the job.

The Bishops haven't announced what they plan to do after the present school term comes to an end. Mrs. Bishop said there were many places they would like to see during retirement—places that they hadn't had time to see during the busy lifetime of teaching the youth of Palm Beach County.

The Everglades News joins the Bishops' many friends and relatives in the western section of Palm Beach county in wishing them many years of happiness during their retirement.

President Be Named New Baptist College

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FLA. — College presidents, vice presidents, deans and other educators as well as ministers are being considered for the presidency of Florida Baptist College.

"We have a large number of candidates," said Dr. Donald E. Warren, chairman of the presidential selection committee of the Board of Trustees.

FBC is the new college chartered this month by the Florida Baptist Convention which will be built in Palm Beach Gardens in the Palm Beaches.

Dr. Warren, a West Palm Beach physician and president of the Florida Heart Association, said "We expect to narrow our study to only a few prospects within a month and recommend to the entire Board of Trustees our choice this summer."

"We realize the enormous scope of our job," Dr. Warren said. "More than 300 colleges and universities are looking for presidents. We feel that we have a wonderful opportunity for an outstanding individual to be the guiding force in launching a great new liberal arts college."

The Board of Trustees is expected to announce a target opening date at their next board meeting.

The President Selection Committee has received recommendations from all over the South and from the Midwest. Dr. Warren urged anyone who knows of an outstanding candidate to write to him at the Florida Baptist College, interim address, 1101 S. Olive Avenue, West Palm Beach, Florida, 33401.

The charter of the college states that the president and all deans must be actively related to a Southern Baptist Church.

Now— U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U.S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E—9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding Bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, Ask about buying Bonds where you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate. Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."
